Rubric for Final Project Report

Criteria	Excellent	Very good	Good	Fair
Correctness and presentation	Accurate and complete presentation of the technical concepts and theories; Sufficient detail is present to allow the reader to understand it	Enough detail about the concepts and theories is present; the presentation is mostly accurate and easy to understand	Incomplete or somewhat missing
Depth of analysis	The experimental results are carefully and objectively analyzed; interpretations are supported by appropriate evidence, like equations and theories	Engineering analysis is detailed enough to aid understanding	Analysis is sketchy and inadequate
Completeness	Excellently complete all requirements for this project, the report includes every component, including abstract, conclusion, references, etc.	Miss any component or not well-address 1-2 components	Miss 2 components
Organization and format	The report is excellently organized; points are logically ordered; perfectly follow the required format; the report is clean and visually appealing	Well-organized; points are ordered; key elements are present; the layout could be more effective	Somewhat organized
Layout and usage	All figures and tables are consistent with and cited in the text, and easy to understand; all references are correctly identified and cited; no errors in spelling and English usage	The figures and tables are generally labeled and can be understand; references are appropriate; almost no error in sentence structure and word usage	Hard to understand; references are incomplete and not correctly cited; some language errors but understandable	